

The Station of `Abdu'l-Bahá

INTRODUCTION: Approaching the threshold...

`Abdu'l-Bahá was the son of Bahá'u'lláh and is considered one of the three Central Figures of the Bahá'í Faith. He was not a Prophet of God, yet he holds a position considered by Bahá'ís as “unapproached in the world's spiritual history.”<sup>1</sup>

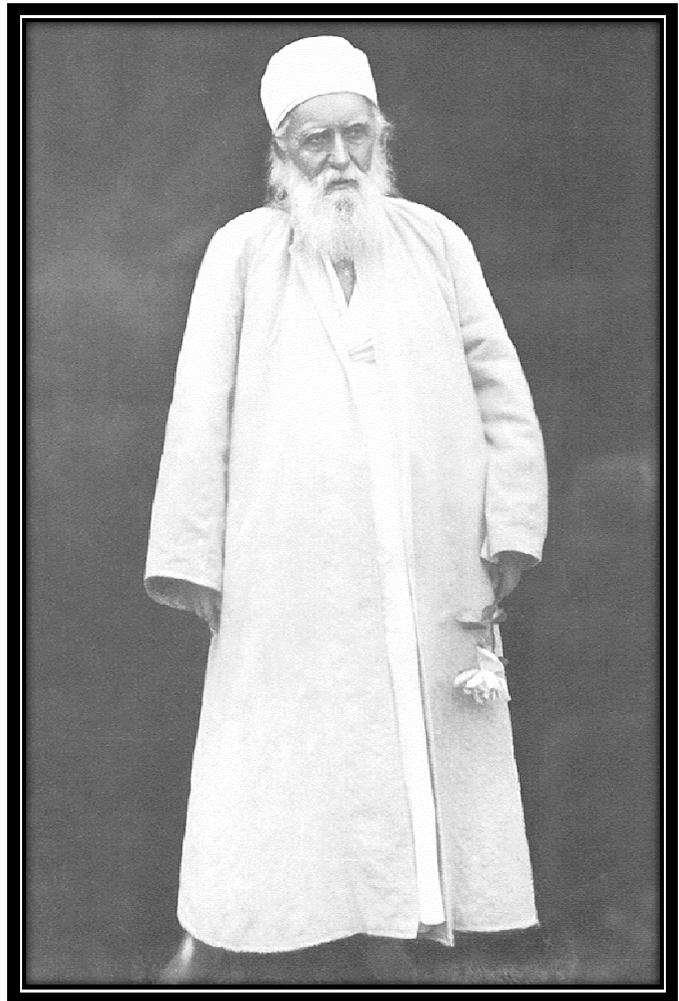

`Abdu'l-Bahá was asked by a believer: “Master, who art thou?”

“Verily,” he replied, “I say unto thee, that I am indeed an humble, submissive and imploring servant of God; a servant of His Beloved; a messenger of the exaltation of His Word; a spreader of His Fragrances; an extoller of the banner of love and harmony; a promoter of the greatest peace among all nations and tribes; a kindler of the fire of the love of God in the hearts of the people; a runner to the place of martyrdom in the Cause of God; a yearner for every calamity in the love of God; a longer for suspension upon the cross for the love of the beloved; a herald of the Kingdom of God among the sects of all horizons. This is my station and condition; this is my blazing crown; this is my glorious throne; because my servitude to the Holy Threshold is my brilliant light, my shining star and my drawn sword; and beside this I have no other name.”<sup>2</sup>

“My station is `Abdu'l-Bahá,” he said, “my name is `Abdu'l-Bahá, my qualification is `Abdu'l-Bahá, my praise is `Abdu'l-Bahá, my title is `Abdu'l-Bahá.”<sup>3</sup>

`Abdu'l-Bahá, in English, simply means servant of “Glory”, “Splendor” or “Light”.

The following study examines the unique and superlative station of `Abdu'l-Bahá, that person whom all Bahá'ís extol and characterize as the Center of Bahá'u'lláh's Covenant and the perfect example of a true Bahá'í.

OBJECTIVE: A look to the horizon...

Facilitator

Review the following objective with the participants:

The objective of this study is to understand the fundamental verities or basic truths regarding the unique station of `Abdu'l-Bahá.

THE STUDY PROCESS: Attaining the water of life...

Facilitator

Review the following study process with the participants. Then study the numbered quotations on the following pages, one at a time as described below.

1. READING: A drink from the cup of guidance...

Have two participants take turns reading the quotation out loud so that it is read twice.

2. CONFIRMING MEANING: A spray from the fountain of light...

A. If anyone would like to have better understanding of a word used in the quotation, now is the time to look up its substitute phrase, definition or synonym, which can be found in the boxes below each quotation. Read the substitute phrase, definition or synonym out loud so everyone can hear.

B. Read the sentence again that contains the word you looked up, while substituting for that word, its given phrase, definition or synonym from the box below the quotation.

C. If anyone would like a better understanding of another word, repeat the process above until everyone is satisfied with their understanding of the words.

3. FINDING VALUE: Mining the gems of truth...

Take turns stating each basic fact or truth you can find in the quotation about the unique station of `Abdu'l-Bahá.

QUOTATIONS: Within the meadows of Thy nearness...

1. He is, and should for all time be regarded, first and foremost, as the Center and Pivot of Bahá'u'lláh's peerless and all-enfolding Covenant, His most exalted handiwork, the stainless Mirror of His light, the perfect Exemplar of His teachings, the unerring Interpreter of His Word, the embodiment of every Bahá'í ideal, the incarnation of every Bahá'í virtue, the Most Mighty Branch sprung from the Ancient Root, the Limb of the Law of God, the Being "round Whom all names revolve," the Mainspring of the Oneness of Humanity, the Ensign of the Most Great Peace, the Moon of the Central Orb of this most holy Dispensation—styles and titles that are implicit and find their truest, their highest and fairest expression in the magic name `Abdu'l-Bahá. He is, above and beyond these appellations, the "Mystery of God"—an expression by which Bahá'u'lláh Himself has chosen to designate Him, and which, while it does not by any means justify us to assign to Him the station of Prophethood, indicates how in the person of `Abdu'l-Bahá the incompatible characteristics of a human nature and superhuman knowledge and perfection have been blended and are completely harmonized.

all-enfolding: completely covering or enveloping [type of] Ancient Root: Manifestation, Bahá'u'lláh [one of His titles] appellations: designated titles or names blended: combined into one whole
Center: Person that is the most important and the central focus
Central Orb: Source at the center [Bahá'u'lláh] characteristics: distinguishing traits and qualities Covenant: binding agreement [with the Bahá'is to turn to and accept 'Abdu'l-Bahá on all matters pertaining to the Faith]
designate: call by a distinctive title Dispensation: religious System that regulates human affairs under divine authority embodiment: representative in human form Ensign: One who is as a sign or symbol exalted: highly praised, raised to an elevated state, and glorified Exemplar: One who serves as an ideal model or image foremost: of the highest importance handiwork: personally produced work harmonized: brought into agreement or accord human: susceptibility to be frail and fallible [in]

Moon: Light is the symbol of knowledge and goodness. The Sun is the brightest source of light and often symbolizes the Manifestation. The moon is the greatest reflection of the sun and therefore symbolizes the greatest possible likeness or reflection of the Manifestation.
Most Great Peace: condition of permanent peace and unity in the world based on the teachings of Bahá'u'lláh
Most Mighty Branch: the title given by Bahá'u'lláh to 'Abdu'l-Bahá, as His descendant Mystery: incomprehensible and supernatural One names: glorious spiritual perfections and attributes nature: inborn disposition
Oneness: unity, harmony, and agreement of mind, feeling, and purpose peerless: unequalled; matchless; incomparable perfection: the greatest degree of excellence
Pivot: the crucial person
Prophethood: One who reveals divinely inspired revelations of God

styles: identifying terms superhuman: greater than human titles: distinguished names unerring: exact, flawless, and error free virtue: commendable quality, trait, or moral excellence

2. Inasmuch as great differences and divergences of denominational belief had arisen throughout the past, every man with a new idea attributing it to God, Bahá'u'lláh desired that there should not be any ground or reason for disagreement among the Bahá'is. Therefore, with His own pen He wrote the Book of His Covenant, addressing His relations and all people of the world, saying, “Verily, I have appointed One [‘Abdu'l-Bahá] Who is the Center of My Covenant. All must obey Him; all must turn to Him; He is the Expounder of My Book, and He is informed of My purpose. All must turn to Him. Whatsoever He says is correct, for, verily, He knoweth the texts of My Book. Other than He, no one doth know My Book.” The purpose of this statement is that there should never be discord and divergence among the Bahá'is but that they should always be unified and agreed.

(‘Abdu'l-Bahá, The Promulgation of Universal Peace, pp. 322-23)

appointed: officially named or selected attributing: thinking it originated from or belonged [in]
Center: Person that is the most important and the central focus
Covenant: binding agreement [with the Bahá'is]

informed: abundantly informed or knowledgeable obey: carry out or submit to instructions or orders from texts: exact or actual words and content unified: peacefully joined together

3. In accordance with the explicit text of the Kitáb-i-Aqdas Bahá'u'lláh hath made the Center of the Covenant the Interpreter of His Word — a Covenant so firm and mighty that from the beginning of time until the present day no religious Dispensation hath produced its like.

(`Abdu'l-Bahá, cited in The World Order of Bahá'u'lláh, p. 136)

accordance: agreement or conformity
Center: Person that is the most important and the central focus
Covenant: binding agreement [He made with the Bahá'ís]
Dispensation: System that regulates human affairs under divine authority explicit: so clearly expressed there is no question as to meaning or intent [of the] firm: securely fixed Interpreter: One who explains or expounds the meaning

Kitáb-i-Aqdas: Literally, “The Most Holy Book” of Bahá'u'lláh.

4. ...His [ `Abdu'l-Bahá's] words are not equal in rank, though they possess an equal validity with the utterances of Bahá'u'lláh...

(Shoghi Effendi, The World Order of Bahá'u'lláh, p. 139)

rank: official standing, grade, or degree utterances: oral or written expressions

validity: authorization as truthful or factual

5. ...My station is the station of servitude — a servitude which is complete, pure and real, firmly established, enduring, obvious, explicitly revealed and subject to no interpretation whatever ... I am the Interpreter of the Word of God; such is my interpretation.

(`Abdu'l-Bahá, cited in The World Order of Bahá'u'lláh, p. 133)

enduring: lasting and unyielding in hardship established: settled and confirmed

A meeting with `Abdu'l-Bahá...

The following story was recorded by Howard Colby Ives, a Unitarian Clergyman, who, before becoming a Bahá'í, had the wonderful opportunity of meeting `Abdu'l-Bahá.

One day I was walking with Mountfort near his home on West End Ave. It was in February and the winter winds were chill. We walked briskly talking of the ever enthralling subject, `Abdu'l-Bahá's approaching visit; what He looked like; what effect His meeting had on souls; stories of contacts with Him in `Akká and Paris. Impulsively I said:

"When `Abdu'l-Bahá arrives I would like very much to have a talk with Him alone, without even an interpreter."

He smiled sympathetically but remarked:

"I fear you couldn't get very far without an interpreter, for `Abdu'l-Bahá speaks little English and you, I imagine, less Persian."

I would not be dissuaded. "If He at all approaches in spiritual discernment what I hear and read of Him," I said, "we would get closer together, and I might have a better chance of understanding, even if no words were spoken. I am very tired of words," I concluded rather lamely.

This was about six weeks before `Abdu'l-Bahá came, two months perhaps. We never referred to the subject again nor did Mountfort speak of my wish to anyone, as he afterwards assured me.

Finally the day arrived....

I remember as if it were yesterday the scene and my impressions. I did not want to talk to anyone. In fact I would not. I withdrew to the window overlooking Broadway and turned my back upon them all. Below me stretched the great city but I saw it not. What was it all about? Why was I here? What did I expect from the coming interview: indeed how did I know there was to be any interview at all? I had no appointment. Plainly all these other folk had come expecting to see and talk with Him. Why should I expect any attention from such an evident personage?

So I was somewhat withdrawn from the others when my attention was attracted by a rustling throughout the room. A door was opening far across from me and a group was emerging and `Abdu'l-Bahá appeared saying farewell. None had any eyes save for Him. Again I had the impression of a unique dignity and courtesy and love. The morning sunlight flooded the room to center on His robe. His fez was slightly tilted and as I gazed, His hand, with a gesture evidently characteristic, raised and, touching, restored it to its proper place. His eyes met mine as my fascinated glance was on Him. He smiled and, with a gesture which no word but "lordly" can describe. He beckoned me. Startled gives no hint of my sensations. Something incredible had happened. Why to me, a stranger unknown, unheard of, should He raise that friendly hand? I glanced around. Surely it was to someone else that gesture was addressed, those eyes were smiling! But there was no one near and again I looked and again He beckoned and such understanding love enveloped me that even at that distance and with a heart still cold a thrill ran through me as if a breeze from a divine morning had touched my brow!

Slowly I obeyed that imperative command and, as I approached the door where still He stood, He motioned others away and stretched His hand to me as if He had always known me. And, as our right hands met, with His left He indicated that all should leave the room, and He drew me in and closed the door. I remember how surprised the interpreter looked when he too was included in this general dismissal. But I had little thought then for anything but this incredible happening. I was absolutely alone with `Abdu'l-Bahá. The halting desire expressed weeks ago was fulfilled the very moment that our eyes first met.

Still holding my hand `Abdu'l-Bahá walked across the room towards where, in the window, two chairs were waiting. Even then the majesty of His tread impressed me and I felt like a child led by His father, a more than earthly father, to a comforting conference. His hand still held mine and frequently His grasp tightened and held more closely. And then, for the first time, He spoke, and in my own tongue: Softly came the assurance that I was His very dear son.

What there was in these simple words that carried such conviction to my heart I cannot say. Or was it the tone of voice and the atmosphere pervading the room, filled with spiritual vibrations beyond anything I had ever known, that melted my heart almost to tears? I only know that a sense of verity invaded me. Here at last was my Father. What earthly paternal relationship could equal this? A new and exquisite emotion all but mastered me. My throat swelled. My eyes filled. I could not have spoken had life depended on a word. I followed those masterly feet like a little child.

Then we sat in the two chairs by the window: knee to knee, eye to eye. At last He looked right into me. It was the first time since our eyes had met with His first beckoning gesture that this had happened. And now nothing intervened between us and He looked at me. He looked at me! It seemed as though never before had anyone really seen me. I felt a sense of gladness that I at last was at home, and that one who knew me utterly, my Father, in truth, was alone with me.

As He looked such play of thought found reflection in His face, that if He had talked an hour not nearly so much could have been said. A little surprise, perhaps, followed swiftly by such sympathy, such understanding, such overwhelming love—it was as if His very being opened to receive me. With that the heart within me melted and the tears flowed. I did not weep, in any ordinary sense. There was no breaking up of feature. It was as if a long-pent stream was at last undammed. Unheeded, as I looked at Him, they flowed.

He put His two thumbs to my eyes while He wiped the tears from my face; admonishing me not to cry, that one must always be happy. And He laughed. Such a ringing, boyish laugh. It was as though He had discovered the most delightful joke imaginable: a divine joke which only He could appreciate.

I could not speak. We both sat perfectly silent for what seemed a long while, and gradually a great peace came to me. Then `Abdu'l-Bahá placed His hand upon my breast saying that it was the heart that speaks. Again silence: a long, heart-enthraling silence. No word further was spoken, and all the time I was with Him not one single sound came from me. But no word was necessary from me to Him. I knew that, even then, and how I thanked God it was so.

Suddenly He leaped from His chair with another laugh as though consumed with a heavenly joy. Turning, He took me under the elbows and lifted me to my feet and swept me into his arms. Such a hug! No mere embrace! My very ribs cracked. He kissed me on both cheeks, laid His arm across my shoulders and led me to the door.

That is all. But life has never been quite the same since.
