

Station of the True Believer

INTRODUCTION: Approaching the threshold...

The station of the true believer is portrayed by Bahá'u'lláh in the most descriptive imagery and eloquent language. He describes to the individual Bahá'í the handsome gift of his own unique station, and depicts the real standing of those with whom we associate in tender affection, our fellow believers.

In exploring the glorious station of the true believer, let us first recall what Bahá'u'lláh said to His followers, about His followers: “Be thankful to God for having enabled you to recognize His Cause. Whoever has received this blessing must, prior to his acceptance, have performed some deed which, though he himself was unaware of its character, was ordained by God as a means whereby he has been guided to find and embrace the Truth.”<sup>1</sup>

Let none of us, then, underestimate the exalted quality of one another's station, neither by employing common standards of judgment, by expecting a spirituality from one another that is unrealistic, nor by emphasizing one another's perceived deeds of error. Nor would we want to impose such erroneous judgments on ourselves. For even the lesser prophets of old “not endowed with constancy” frequently succumbed to the temptations of the lower nature.

Nor should we glory in the high-ranking station conferred upon us by Bahá'u'lláh. For He has repeatedly written that “no one should exalt himself over the other.”<sup>2</sup> Rather might His depiction of the true believer give us clarity and understanding of our own unique station, that we may not become intimidated by the largeness of the task before us, or the seeming magnitude of the forces arrayed against us. Instead, may it empower us to fulfill our magnificent destiny. For He has written: “These few,” that is, those believers who have “been found willing to cleave to His Cause, or to become the instruments for its promotion” ... “have been endued with the Divine Elixir that can, alone, transmute into purest gold the dross of the world, and have been empowered to administer the infallible remedy for all the ills that afflict the children of men.”<sup>3</sup>

Some idealistic philosophies suggest that in a fair and just world, where all human beings are considered equal, degrees of rank and station have no place. `Abdu'l-Bahá refutes this theory saying: “The Manifestations of God affirm that differences are demonstrably and indisputably innate, and that ‘We have caused some of you to excel others’<sup>4</sup> is a proven and inescapable fact. It is certain that human beings are, by their very nature, different one from the other.”<sup>1</sup> First and last, greater and less-than, are realities inherent in both the material and spiritual worlds. Let us come to understand, then, that degrees of rank and station can, and do, perfectly co-exist in reality with equality, fairness and oneness.

In recognition of the beautiful diversity in our rank and station, our characteristics and personalities, our qualities and attributes, may the Bahá’í community gladly present the divine mosaic that is humanity, while demonstrating a vibrant unity, exemplified by harmony, agreement, peace and accord in all our relations — free of conflict, dissension, contention and strife. And may we all attain those glorious spiritual stations destined for the true believer.

OBJECTIVE: *A look to the horizon...

Facilitator

Review the following objective with the participants:

The objective of this study is to acquire some understanding of the exalted station of the true believer, and thereby become empowered to fulfill our glorious destiny.

THE STUDY PROCESS: *Attaining the water of life...

Facilitator

Review the following study process with the participants. Then study the numbered quotations that follow, one at a time as described below.

1. READING: *A drink from the cup of guidance...

A. Read the quotation out loud in its entirety.

2. CONFIRMING MEANING: *A spray from the fountain of light...

To better understand certain words used in the quotation, take turns with the following:

A. Each participant choose a word from the quotation and state it for the whole group to hear. (Like a fun game – pick a word!) Then...

B. Read out loud the sentence that contains the word you selected, while substituting for that word, its given phrase, definition, or synonym from the boxes below the quotation.

C. Repeat A and B above until everyone is satisfied with their understanding of the words.

D. Read the quotation out loud again in its entirety.

3. FINDING VALUE: *Gem-like discoveries...

In the tradition of the “talking circle” ask the participants to take turns sharing, one at a time, in a round, WHAT WAS PERSONALLY MOST MEANINGFUL FROM THE QUOTATION AND WHY. (Remember show and tell?) Remind the participants that whatever is shared should be considered as a valid perspective, and that in this exploratory study there are no right or wrong perceptions and no lesser or greater understandings. All are therefore asked to avoid comments, corrections, or judgments on the perceived insights of others. This is not a time for questions and answers, it is an exercise for the purpose of bonding hearts by sharing and receiving personal heartfelt perspectives without discussion.

QUOTATIONS: Within the meadows of Thy nearness...

1. ...how superior must be the destiny of the true believer, whose existence and life are to be regarded as the originating purpose of all creation. Just as the conception of faith hath existed from the beginning that hath no beginning, and will endure till the end that hath no end, in like manner will the true believer eternally live and endure. His spirit will everlastingly circle round the Will of God. He will last as long as God, Himself, will last. He is revealed through the Revelation of God, and is hidden at His bidding. It is evident that the loftiest mansions in the Realm of Immortality have been ordained as the habitation of them that have truly believed in God and in His signs. Death can never invade that holy seat. Thus have We entrusted thee with the signs of thy Lord, that thou mayest persevere in thy love for Him, and be of them that comprehend this truth.

Think ye these words to be vain and empty? Would that ye had the power to perceive the things your Lord, the All-Merciful, doth see — things that attest the excellence of your rank, that bear witness to the greatness of your worth, that proclaim the sublimity of your station! Ye are the breezes of spring that are wafted over the world. Through you We have adorned the world of being with the ornament of the knowledge of the Most Merciful. Through you the countenance of the world hath been wreathed in smiles, and the brightness of His light shone forth. Cling ye to the Cord of steadfastness, in such wise that all vain imaginings may utterly vanish. Speed ye forth from the horizon of power, in the name of your Lord, the Unconstrained, and announce unto His servants, with wisdom and eloquence, the tidings of this Cause, whose splendor hath been shed upon the world of being. Beware lest anything withhold you from observing the things prescribed unto you by the Pen of Glory, as it moved over His Tablet with sovereign majesty and might. Great is the blessedness of him that hath hearkened to its shrill voice, as it was raised, through the power of truth, before all who are in heaven and all who are on earth.... O people of Bahá! The river that is Life indeed hath flowed for your sakes. Quaff ye in My name, despite them that have disbelieved in God, the Lord of Revelation. We have made you to be the hands of Our Cause. Render ye victorious this Wronged One, Who hath been sore-tried in the hands of the workers of iniquity. Such is the station ordained for the true believer that if to an extent smaller than a needle’s eye the glory of that station were to be unveiled to mankind, every beholder would be consumed away in his longing to attain it. For this reason it hath been decreed that in this earthly life the full measure of the glory of his own station should remain concealed from the eyes of such a believer.” “If the veil be lifted, and the full glory of the station of those who have turned wholly towards God, and in their love for Him renounced the world, be made manifest, the entire creation would be dumbfounded.”*

Therefore, those who in every subsequent Dispensation preceded the rest of mankind in embracing the Faith of God, who quaffed the clear waters of knowledge at the hand of the divine Beauty, and attained the loftiest summits of faith and certitude, these can be regarded, in name, in reality, in deeds, in words, and in rank, as the “return” of those who in a former Dispensation had achieved similar distinctions. For whatsoever the people of a former Dispensation have manifested, the same hath been shown by the people of this latter generation. Consider the rose: whether it blossometh in the East or in the West, it is none the less a rose. ### A Prayer from the Pen of Bahá'u'lláh.

All praise, O my God, be to Thee Who art the Source of all glory and majesty, of greatness and honor, of sovereignty and dominion, of loftiness and grace, of awe and power. Whomsoever Thou willest Thou causest to draw nigh unto the Most Great Ocean, and on whomsoever Thou desirest Thou conferrest the honor of recognizing Thy Most Ancient Name. Of all who are in heaven and on earth, none can withstand the operation of Thy sovereign Will. From all eternity Thou didst rule the entire creation, and Thou wilt continue for evermore to exercise Thy dominion over all created things. There is none other God but Thee, the Almighty, the Most Exalted, the All-Powerful, the All-Wise.

Illumine, O Lord, the faces of Thy servants, that they may behold Thee; and cleanse their hearts that they may turn unto the court of Thy heavenly favors, and recognize Him Who is the Manifestation of Thy Self and the Day-Spring of Thine Essence. Verily, Thou art the Lord of all worlds. There is no God but Thee, the Unconstrained, the All-Subduing.
