

Our Purpose as Human Beings

INTRODUCTION: Approaching the threshold...

Who are we as human beings? What is the purpose of our lives? Where did we come from and why are we here? What are we supposed to be doing in this world? These are questions that nearly everyone asks at some point in their lives.

If we were to ask these questions of the eight billion people on the earth, we would receive eight billion different answers. For Bahá'ís, the sole source of information concerning these questions is found in religion and revealed confidently by the Manifestation of God, Bahá'u'lláh. Science may tell us how things happen; however, the why, the purpose, and the meaning of life and death cannot be explained by science. And, in this age of recognized diversity, neither tradition nor culture can provide adequate explanations.

These questions, as difficult as they may be, find answers in the Bahá'í Writings that move the soul to rejoice, to practice righteousness, and to seek spirituality, while avoiding those damaging and meaningless pursuits that lead to sorrow, grief, confusion, sadness, despair, and pain. To know one's self and to pursue the purpose for which we were created, gives direction and meaning to life in all its aspects.

This study on our purpose as human beings helps to answer questions that have perplexed people for ages and sets one out on the true and intended path. The sacred Scriptures tell us that we were created out of God's love: "I knew My love for thee; therefore I created thee."¹ To what end and purpose? Let's explore.

A Coin-Purse Belonging to Bahá'u'lláh

"If a person content himself with a single loaf of bread, and perform his duties with as much justice and fair-mindedness as lieth within his power, he will be the prince of mortals, and the most praiseworthy of men. Noble and distinguished will he be, despite his empty purse!"²

— `Abdu'l-Bahá

CLOSING MEDITATION: A heart song...

From a talk by `Abdu'l-Bahá while in New York.

In the beginning of his human life man was embryonic in the world of the matrix [womb]. There he received capacity and endowment for the reality of human existence. The forces and powers necessary for this world were bestowed upon him in that limited condition. In this world he needed eyes; he received them potentially in the other. He needed ears; he obtained them there in readiness and preparation for his new existence. The powers requisite in this world were conferred upon him in the world of the matrix, so that when he entered this realm of real existence he not only possessed all necessary functions and powers but found provision for his material sustenance awaiting him.

Therefore, in this world he must prepare himself for the life beyond. That which he needs in the world of the Kingdom must be obtained here. Just as he prepared himself in the world of the matrix by acquiring forces necessary in this sphere of existence, so, likewise, the indispensable forces of the divine existence must be potentially attained in this world.

What is he in need of in the Kingdom which transcends the life and limitation of this mortal sphere? That world beyond is a world of sanctity and radiance; therefore, it is necessary that in this world he should acquire these divine attributes. In that world there is need of spirituality, faith, assurance, the knowledge and love of God. These he must attain in this world so that after his ascension from the earthly to the heavenly Kingdom he shall find all that is needful in that eternal life ready for him.

That divine world is manifestly a world of lights; therefore, man has need of illumination here. That is a world of love; the love of God is essential. It is a world of perfections; virtues, or perfections, must be acquired. That world is vivified by the breaths of the Holy Spirit; in this world we must seek them. That is the Kingdom of everlasting life; it must be attained during this vanishing existence.

By what means can man acquire these things? How shall he obtain these merciful gifts and powers? First, through the knowledge of God. Second, through the love of God. Third, through faith. Fourth, through philanthropic deeds. Fifth, through self-sacrifice. Sixth, through severance from this world. Seventh, through sanctity and holiness. Unless he acquires these forces and attains to these requirements, he will surely be deprived of the life that is eternal. But if he possesses the knowledge of God, becomes ignited through the fire of the love of God, witnesses the great and mighty signs of the Kingdom, becomes the cause of love among mankind and lives in the utmost state of sanctity and holiness, he shall surely attain to second birth, be baptized by the Holy Spirit and enjoy everlasting existence....

Praise be to God! The door of divine knowledge has been opened by Bahá'u'lláh, for He has laid the foundation whereby man may become acquainted with the verities of heaven and earth and has bestowed the utmost confirmation in this day. He is our Teacher and Adviser; He is our Seer and the One clement toward us. He has prepared His gifts and vouchsafed His bounties, revealed every admonition and behest, prepared for us the means of eternal glory, breathed upon us the life-quickenings of the Holy Spirit, opened before our faces the doors of the paradise of `Abhá and caused the lights of the Sun of Truth to shine upon us. The clouds of mercy have poured down their precious rain. The sea of favor is swelling and surging toward us.

The spiritual springtime has come. Infinite bounties and graces have appeared. What bestowal is greater than this? We must appreciate the divine generosity and act in accordance with the teachings of Bahá'u'lláh so that all good may be stored up for us and in both worlds we shall become precious and acceptable to God, attain to everlasting blessings, taste the delicacy of the love of God, find the sweetness of the knowledge of God, perceive the heavenly bestowal and witness the power of the Holy Spirit.

This is my advice, and this is my admonition.
